

Château Pichon Longueville Comtesse de Lalande – G.C.C. Pauillac France (PAUILLAC) – 2015

Domain

Ch. Pichon Longueville

Château Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande is one of the most prestigious houses in the Pauillac appellation. The historical roots of this house date back to 1869. In 1925 the domain was purchased by the father and uncle of the current owner Madame de Lencquesaing, who inherited the domain in 1978. The vineyards of this house are right next to a large and well-known neighbor, in particular Château Latour (Saint-Julien). Château Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande produces very special and charming wines. This is largely due to the microclimate, warm summers interspersed with mild winters.

Taste

Nice red color with purple reflections. In the nose the aroma of red and black fruit, spices, wood, subtle smoke. In the mouth a lot of ripe red fruit and soft but present tannins. A nice full wine with a long and elegant final.

Food pairing

Meat - red | Poultry - roasted pigeon | Roast beef | Lambscarré | Cheese - Brie, molten | Ravioli - with mushrooms and truffle
