

Wijnfiche

Weingut Lehner – Hohes Eck | Niederösterreich Roter Veltliner Austria (WEINVIERTEL) – 2023

Domain

Weingut Lehner - Minkowitsch

The Minkowitsch winery is a traditional family business that has existed since 1875. The sixth generation is now at the helm. A new chapter in their wine history has opened since 2022. The fusion of two wine families: Lehner and Minkowitsch. Lukas Lehner and Agnes Lehner-Minkowitsch brought their families together not only privately, but also professionally. Two independent winegrowers are now working together towards a common future.

They mainly produce fresh, fruity white and smooth red wines on approximately 7 hectares of vineyards. The vineyards are located in the southern Weinviertel, in Velm-Götzendorf and Mannersdorf an der March, northeast of Vienna, on the border with Slovakia. The philosophy of winemaking is the simplest imaginable: own vineyards, own grapes and own wine. The result is varietal wines with balance and harmony.

Vinification

Late harvested, small Roter Veltliner grapes ferment very slowly into this highly complex single-site wine. The clayey soil produces small grapes with a high concentration. The open, windy location ensures healthy and fully ripe grapes.

Taste

A fruity nose with especially apple, a nice citrus freshness, along with floral and mineral notes. In the mouth the wine is pleasantly full with a fresh and fruity taste. This Roter Veltliner has a high storage potential and is a pleasure to drink after years of bottle aging (approx. 4 years).

Food pairing

Appetizer snack | Asparagus | Fish - in papilotte

General information

Type: White wine

Grape varieties: Roter Veltliner

Viticulture: Traditional

Storage (years): + 3-5

Serving temperature: 8-10 °C

Taste profile: Mineral acidic

